

New Open Access agreement for authors at Australian and New Zealand institutions

From 1 January 2022, the Open Access agreement between Wiley and the Council of Australian University Librarians \(CAUL\) comes into effect. Australian & New Zealand Journal of Statistics authors affiliated with participating institutions in Australia and New Zealand may now publish open access with no transactional Article Publication Charges (APCs).

- Check whether your ANZ institution is eligible here.
- Follow this guide to check article eligibility and steps to make your article open access.

Why Publish Open Access?

- Achieve maximum impact and reach the widest audience. Your article will be freely available for anyone to download, share, and cite.
- Retain copyright of your article with a Creative Commons license
- Be compliant with funder or institution mandates

Submit to Australian & New Zealand Journal of Statistics here

To learn more about the benefits of publishing Open Access, read our white paper here.